

Stark County MASTER GARDENER VOLUNTEERSLavender Trails

Lavender has long been known for its' soothing scent but this mighty little plant can be helpful in many ways to the environment.

Bring you walking shoes and water as we tour the 4 acres site in Orrville Industrial Park as Amy and Jim Duxbury, both public school educators, lead the tour and talk of the growing fields, pollinator walk, research fields, as we find out how a "brown field" of construction waste can be reclaimed and shop at their outdoor store afterwards.
